THE UNIVERSITY CLUB OF WASHINGTON, DC

A TRADITION OF BELONGING AT THE UNIVERSITY CLUB

For more than 100 years, The University Club of Washington, DC, has stood as one of the nation's truly historic membership organizations. While the founders included President William Howard Taft, and Chief Justice of the United States Melville Fuller, they were part of a larger group of political, business and civic leaders who shared a common bond.

ENTER ALL YE WHO HAVE A DEGREE OF GOOD FELLOWSHIP AND LEARNING.

Today's members are an impressive who's who of leaders sharing a sense of family. They are bonded by their intellectual, athletic and cultural pursuits, evident in the restaurants, on the courts and in the events taking place throughout the Club each and every day.

The carriage ride of 100 years ago has been replaced by a quick ride on the Metro, but a great location never goes out of style. The Club's stately red brick clubhouse is situated among an enclave of cultural, scientific and diplomatic institutions, just a few blocks north of the White House. As one of the premier private city clubs in the United States, The University Club has established itself as the destination of choice in Washington, DC.
